

IS IT OK TO COPY THINGS FROM THE INTERNET?

If you want to copy material and use it yourself you should do the following.

- Ask permission from the owner of the website
- If you copy anything in to your own project or website, always say where you got it from. This is only fair. Otherwise, it's like robbing the work they did.

HOW WOULD YOU FEEL IF SOMEONE COPIED YOUR HOMEWORK WITHOUT TELLING YOU?

WHY DO SOME SITES ASK ME FOR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

- Websites such as Facebook collect information about people so they know what type of Advertisement to pop up on the screen. This information can be sold or passed on to other sites. That's why you often get emails from sites you have never visited. This is called Spam and in Eurone is against the law.

WOULD YOU MIND WEBSITES SELLING YOUR DETAILS?

HOW DO I KNOW WHAT A WEB SITE WILL DO WITH MY PERSONAL DETAILS?

- A good or safe website will have a "private Policy". This will tell you what the site intends to do with your details but as a rule you should never give your details over the Internet without checking with an adult first.
